

Hutt Hutt... Hike! Vote Maggie Huttlinger for NEA Board of Directors

I, Maggie Huttlinger, am a junior at Loyola University Chicago. I became heavily involved in the Illinois Education Association - Student Program at the beginning of my undergraduate career in elementary education.

I've been an active member of Loyola's Future Teachers Program for three years, and have also assisted the program in the victory of two Outstanding Local Chapter Awards.

As a freshman, I ran for the Illinois Education Association Student Program Executive Board and was elected as the Public Relations Coordinator. I have since been elected as the Chairperson Elect and for the 2014-2015 school year I will be Illinois' State President.

After attending two National conferences, I applied to serve on the Advisory Committee of Student Members and learned so much more about the national association. This year's Student Leadership Conference will be my 5th national conference, and I look forward to sharing the experience with the NEA Student Program. This program has trained me and given me a passion for education. I'm ready to get in the game and makes some major plays for this organization.
